The brother of the deseased has issued a card stating that he will give a reward of $2,500 for the arrest of the murderer of Charles Seedrich, such reward to be paid after a conviction for murder and upon the certificate of District-Attorney Maritton, or his successor, as to the person or person antifled to the money. David-Goodrich, father of the deceased, appeared be fore Surrogate Vecder yesterday morning and obtained letters of administration upon the dead man's estate, ofter filing a bond in $6,000. The affidavit of this gentle man shows that the deceased left no will or testament, and that the personal property of which he died posweesed did not exceed $3,000. A rumor to the effect that the murderer of Mr. Goodrich had been found in a New-York house of prostutation was circulated last evening but the officials contradicted it.

THE RING CIVIL SUITS.

INGRESOLL'S DEMURRER SUSTAINED-THE COUNTY

AND NOT THE STATE HAS THE RIGHT TO SUE. In the sant to recover six millions brought to the name of The People of the State of New-York agl. William M. Tweed, James H. Ingersoll and others, a demurrer was put in by Ingersoli that the plaintiff had no right to sue, having no cause of action. A motion to dismiss the complaint on this demurrer was argued in the Special Term of the Supreme Court, before Judge Harden, during the February Term, Messrs. tr'Conor, Evarts and Peckham contended that the plaintin had a good cause of action, while Messrs. Field, Stoughton and Root argued that the plaintiff could not maintain an action. Judge Harden had the matter under consideration until yesterday, when he announced his decision sustaining the demairrer, and denying the right of the People of the State to recover under the In a long opinion, in which he cites numerous decisions of other courts, his Honor states in detail his reason for arriving at this conclusion. He holds that when the bonds (on which the money sought to be recovered was raised) got into the hands of bona fide holders, they became binding as a debt against the county, and that when the proceeds of their sale came tinto the Chamberlain's posssession, or were deposited with him as County Treasurer, it was under an act properly applicable to the payment of liabilities of this county He holds that, under the act of 1870, the Controller h paying out this money discharged a duty for the county; that instead of complying with the statute it was alleged the Controller conspired to pay out, and did pay out. $6,000,000 on fraudulent claims, to recover which the suit is brought; that there is in these facts a good cause of action on behalf of the county; that every action must, under the code, be brought in the name of the party really in interest; that the real party in inter est in this suit is the County of New-York, and that the present plaintiff, the People of the State of New-York, cannot in any just or statutory sense be regarded as the real party in interest. He says further that the complaint does not allege in express terms that the plaintiffs have any real interest in or title to the moneys sought to be recovered; that the facts constituting the alleged cause of action do not show that the plaintiffs have any legal title thereto, or that the plaintiffs are the real party in interest, but that, on the contrary, all the facts stated show very clearly that the County of New-York is the real party in interest. He holds that the suit cannot be sustained by a taxpayer, and that, believing as he does that the county has the right to sue, the present plaintiffs cannot maintain their action unless they amend their complaint, and make the County of New-York a party either plaintiff or defendant, anggestion of counsel for plaintiff that the amendment sould be made on trial, he considers doubtful. In con-

No doubt is entertained as to the liability of the defendant Ingersoll, as well as the other defendants, to respend for the general fraud in which he has been par-Deigunt, but his demurrer to the complaint must be sastained, because the complaint does not state facts suffient to constitute a cause of action in favor of the plan liffs, The People of the State.

The demarrer of the defendant Ingersoll will be sutained, with leave to amend in twenty days upon pay-

THE MARKET FRAUDS.

OTHER CASES OF INJUSTICE, The stand-owners of Washington and West Washington Markets expressed their gratification, yes terday, in various ways for the revelations in THE TRUB UNE, which presented them to the public as having suf ered from the political panditti who had captured their hard-carned savings. The statement was made that many stand-owners who had suffered had not communated their wrongs to the Superintendent, partly from a sense of shame, and partly from fear that in some un-known manner they would be made to suffer for their temerity. Investigation shows that the members of the market ring," in their boldness, disregard of discovry, and fearlessness of conduct, perpetrated every sort of outrage, disdained the few threats of exposure which were made, and disposed of stands already paid for with impunity. A general sense of relief prevailed yes terday among market men who felt that for the first the full measure of their grievances had been given to the public.

Some other cases of injustice were mentioned, among them the following : One of the most aggravated cases of extortion in uncetion with the transfers of stands in Washington Market was that of Mr. John McGovern, a pork dealer, at stand No. 286. This gentleman was known to the members of the "market ring" as a determined opponent of all blackmailing schemes, and he was therefore mulcted heavily on the slightest pretext. On one occasion, after leaving a sick bed where he had lain for 19 weeks, he came to the market and found his stall cupied by a son of Superintendent Carroll. Mr. McGovern was informed that he could not regain possession except upon the payment of $4,500. He alled upon Controller Councily, told his story to that official, and was promised redress. Depending upon that promise, he waited a long time for its fulfillment, but in vain. He was compelled, in order to regain his tand, to pay the full amount claimed.

One error occurred in the statement published yesterday. It was stated that "on March 16, 1870, an order was ssued by Superintendent Feore that Mr. Hanford's stand, No. 410 Washington Market, should be divided, and one-ball given to Peter Hagan, brother-in-law of Warden Tracy. Mr. Hanford presented his permit and a receipt for rent, entitling him to the stand for one year, It was of no use. The new comer took possession, and immediately sold his person to Van Zant Brennan, who in turn sold it for $3,000. The last purchaser remained in possession until Col. De Voe became Superintendent, when he learned the above fact, and in June of last year restored Mr. Hanford to the full possession of his stand." It appears on further inquiry that Hagan sold the stand he had stolen with Tracy's help to Martin Quinlan for $1,500. Quinlan sold it, guaranteeing it free trom all claims, to Van Zant & Brennan, who have lanocently lost $3,000 by Col. De Voc's decision. They acknowledge, however, the justice of his decision, and are suing Quinian to recover. and one-balf given to Peter Hagan, brother-in-law of

POLICY OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

ONTROLLER GREEN'S VIEWS — ECONOMY IN ADMIN-ISTRATION AND LIBERALITY IN EXECUTION. Controller Green, in acknowledging the receipt of a copy of the resolutious adopted by the Ninth Ward Council of Political Reform, thanks that body for coupling his name with Mayor Havemeyer's in an exion of confidence and esteem, and reviews with warmth the public services of his associate in municipal eform. He then says:

warmth the public services of his associate in humany reform. He then says:

With respect to the subject of your resolution on the condition of our public works. I am glad to be able to assite you of my cordial concurrence in the sentiments you so well express. Having for many years been connected with public enterprises of this city of extent and magnitude, and with the administration of its affairs, study of various plans for its development has necessarily occupied much of my time and thought; indeed, the study of these questions concerning the city and its harbor, and its relation to other adjacent cities has occome a habit with me. I have seen some of the plans which I had a share in designing, fairly carried into execution; more have been burdened with the weight of jobbery and extravagance of the departments to which their execution had been intrusted. I am more and more impressed with the necessity of constituting a body of intelligent citizens to investigate patiently as a whole the various questions involved in the malerial growth of the city, and the comfort and convenience of its people, so that, for instance, the streets, the sewerage, drainage, the warer supply, the parks, the markets, the accommodations for shipping and the facilities for transit and for traffle by water and land, shall be taken up and considered together, and not piecemenal. It is thus that an intelligent individual proceeds in his own establishment, and in this way the community would most advantageously apply its means. I have always advocated not only economy in the administration of works of withy and ornament devised for the improvements which the city so much needs, after being thoroughly matured by the most capacic men, must go forward, but not in the manner they have for the instruction, and bonds should only be issued in eases of unusual enterprises of too great magnitude to enarge entirely upon the present. To reduce taxation expenses must be reduced and the revenues of the city is too lincreased. The brown and bonds s With respect to the subject of your resolution on the bane of these improvements and of all branches of our municipal administration has been the imposition upon them of the demands of political tricksters and demands of political tricksters and demands of political tricksters and demands on the prosent and the properties of the formation of the properties of the formation of new maters, that works of substantial improvement may be prosecuted without bankruptey. This is a matter that nearly concerns you and all the tax-payers of this city. Some mode that is fundamental and effective must be found that will relieve this and other municipalities from the consequences of the wasteraliness, the corruption, and the ignorance that seem to attach to the management of public works and of the sflairs of cities. Our positical economists and statesimen and our citizens will be forced to provide a remedy for these evils that threaten to mortgage and consume the substance of the less portion of the population of almost every city, town, and village in this state.

THE HICKEY WIFE MURDER.

An inquest was held by Goroner Herrman, vesterday, concerning the death on March 18 of Julia Hickey, age 33, from exhaustion and intestinal obstruction, following injuries alleged to have been caused by herflusband, Daniel Hickey, age 28, a plasterer, who is charged with having thrown her from a window of their rooms, on the second floor of the tenement-house, No. 427 West Forty-second-st., on the night of Jan. 8. Several occupants of the same house heard Hickey and his wife quarreling in their rooms for about e minutes. Subsequently Hickey went down stars, folowed by the witnesses who saw Mrs. Hickey lying in the yard in her night clothing, conscious, but helpless from her injuries. She was removed to the hall-way. where Simon Donnelly lighted the gas, and Hickey said to him: "I did it: but what of it? I'm not going to run away." Hickey then went for a doctor, who soon afterward came alone and found the woman suffering from a large scalp wound, a fractured thigh and knee pan, and several severe contusions of the body. In the presence of witnesses she said that her husband had thrown her from the window, but, while in Bellevue Hospital, she made a contrary statement. The latter, however, she supplemented by again saying that her husband had thrown her from the window, but that she did not want to prosecute him.

The jury found that death resulted from minister received in falling from the window, and that the fall was caused by Hickey's having pushed the duccased. After having, under advice of his counsel, declined to make any extensent relative to the charge against him, the accused was committed to the Tombs to await the action of the Grand Jury. the woman suffering from a large scalp wound, a frac-

AN OCEAN MYSTERY.

The Treasury Bepartment having issued a circular calling for information in relation to the brigan-tine Mary Celeste, found abandoned at sea on Dec. 13, 1872, and towed into Gibraltar, a TRIBUNE reporter called on Mr. Winchester, the owner, at his office in South-st., and ascertained his theory of the loss of the vessel. Mr. Winchester stated that upon learning of the abandon-ment of the wessel he went to Gibraltar with a captain, ment of the vessel he went to Gibraltar with a captain, who was to take command of her on her voyage from Gibraltar to Genon. He examined the vessel thoroughly, and stated that there were no signs of blood either on the sails of the sword as mentioned in the circular. The stains of the sails were from service and those on the sword from rust. The alleged impairment of the bowse arose from the action of the atmosphere and the water upon the hard pine planking. Mr. Winchester attributes the disapperance of Capt. Briggs, his wife, child, and crew, to the granulting of the vessel, when fearing to be jost he abandoned the vessel. To verify this the owner has ordered the captain now in command to have the vessel docked after she has been unloaded at Genoa, that the bottom may be examined.

THE BULL'S HEAD BANK. REORGANIZATION OF THE INSTITUTION—AN ISSUE OF ADDITIONAL STOCK.

The meeting of the Committee of the Stockholders and Depositors of the Bull's Head Bank, took place, yesterday, at the Metropolitan Bank. The procedings were strictly private. It was announced that a proposition would be presented by the committee of the stockholders in regard to the issue of additional stock, part of which could be subscribed to by depositors and ie balance by stockholders. 'The stockholders' meeting at the Ashland House was called to order at 3 p. m. There were about 30 stockholders present and the Committee of Depositors, A. S. Cameron, Chairman, were also admitted. John E. Wiffiams requested Marshal Sharpe to inform them how far United States Marshal Meigs had advanced in his investigation Mr. Sharpe informed the meeting that Mr. Meigs had found the assets correct, with a discrepancy in favor of the bank. He further said that the bills receivable were coming in satisfactorily. He stated that Mr. Meigs had investigated the private boxes in the safes and found them uninjured.

It was determined that Mr. Willett and Mr. Meigs should verify the inventory to-day. Henry A. Mott, counsel for the Directors, informed the slockholders that the Directors did not propose to resign, but were ready and willing to continue in office as long as such action should meet with the approval of the stockholders." The following was then presented as the result of the previous meeting in the morning :

Nearly all the leading members of the New-York leather trade attended the funeral, which was field at his late residence, corner of Eighty-sixth-st. and Fifth-ave. to 2 o'clock p. m., in respect to the memory of Mr. Chas. Civil Service examinations in the Custom-house have been had for the positions of weigher, salary $2,500, and gauger, $2,000. Another examination will be held on April 31. The list of appointments to be made is as follows: Two clerks at $1.500 per annum, two at $1,400, three at $1,200, and one at $900; one inspector and three storckeepers at $4 per dism, and one night inspector at $3 per diem.

The manner in which receivers of stolen goods escape punishment was shown in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday. The case of Herman Oyer and Terminer, yesterday. The Case of the Goodstein, who was indicted for burglary and receiving stolen property, was called, but the prisoner did not choose to appear, and forfeited his bail. Thieves forced open the front door of No. 109 West Thirty-fourth-si., on Tuesday night, and ascend-ing to the roof of the building, thence walked to the roof of No. 1,277 Broadway, occupied by E. Eisenmerger & Co., furniture dealers. The scuttle-door of this building was soon forced off and the thieves, descending to the lower floor, there stole citht worth $573.77. A bright intelligent girl, age 13, was present at the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, with her chosen guardian, Mrs. Georgiana Horsley of No. 415 West Nmeteenth-st., the latter having been charged by West Nineteenth-st, the latter having been charged by the mother of the girl with keeping foreible possession of her daughter. Mrs. Horsiey found the girl roaming among the wharves in November last, and took house. The child liked her guardian, and in the courroom she was much frightened when she saw he mother, who, it was alleged, is an intemperate women and had ill-treated her. She begged the Justice in the most piteous tones to let her remain with Mrs. Horsieg and he, after considerable deliberation, decided to do stone the latter of the District Attorney.

Two blunders in the District-Attorney's office were brought to light in the courts, yesterday. A boy named Casey was sent to the bank with a check for $50 by his employer, Thos. Lyons, which was stolen from him on a street-ear. Casey discovered the loss immediately and ran after the prisoner, who was quickly ar-rested. The indictment, unfortunately, set forth that restor. The indictment, unfortunately, set fortal that the money was Casey's property, whereas it was Mr. Lyong's, and in the Court of Oyer and Terminer the prisoner was acquitted on the ground of variance; but a proper indictment was afterward found by the Grand Jury. A like mistake was made in the indictment of John Brown. A serious misunderstanding has occurred between Charles Fechter and W. Butler Dunean, which will again defer the opening of the Lyceum on Fourteenth-st. The latter holds a mortgage covering the property, and on Monday night the contractor took forcible possession of the theater in consequence of alleged improper conduct on the part of Mr. Fechter's workmen, they having tampered with the keys of the workmen, they having tampered with the keys of the establishment and otherwise rendered themselves guilty of misconduct. Mr. Duncan stated to a Think'n reporter, yesterday, that Mr. Fechter could have the theater when he paid for it, and that he approved of the contractor's conduct under the circumstances, though he trusted that the misunderstanding would not long posipone the opening of the theater.
